Providing In-Home & Telehealth
Counseling Services throughout
Queens & Long Island

About Us

Founded in 2014, Visiting Counselors of New York (VCNY), offers In-Home and Telehealth counseling services.

Our Neurodiversity Program established in 2021, specializes in clinical counseling for adults diagnosed with a Neurodevelopmental Disorder, including Traumatic Brain Injuries (TBI).

Our Mission

VCNY works to help people overcome their fears and concerns, cope with psychiatric/emotional/physical/medical health conditions and limitations and obtain their self-identified goals.

It is VCNY's hope that by bringing services to the individual and connecting people with quality, caring and confidential providers; more people will receive the support they need to succeed.

Individual Counseling

Our In-Home and Telehealth counseling program takes a client centered approach in providing clinical services. The program is open to adults 21 and older diagnosed with a cognitive impairment such as Intellectual Developmental Disorder, Autism, Down Syndrome, with co-occurring various mental health conditions and other difficulties.

Additionally, we assist with life transitions, loss, trauma, isolation and help address the everyday concerns and difficulties our clients face navigating the environment.

VCNY clinicians will work collaboratively with client's support team and can provide linkage to additional community resources when applicable

At VCNY we celebrate Neurodiversity and recognize the value of minds of all kinds!

Our clinicians advocate to de-stigmatize disabilities and are proud to be neurodivergent affirming therapists.

Eligibility Requirements

To qualify for VCNY's in-home services; individuals must be at least 21 years of age and willing to voluntarily engage in counseling services. Individuals must have no recent history of any violent or physically aggressive behavior and be capable of participating in talk therapy.
